

Figure 7.4 Illustration of a separate timer thread used with TCP. The timer manages events such as segment retransmission and maximum segment lifetime timeout, and notifies the TCP thread whenever an event must occur.