

Figure 9.3 Conceptual architecture of a hybrid classification system. In general, the hardware stage handles standard packets and the software stage handles exceptions.