

Figure 10.1 The switching fabric concept. The fabric is an internal hardware interconnection mechanism that allows any input port to send to any output port.