

Figure 5.7 (a) A table of binary strings, their unique prefixes, and a node in the trie, and (b) a binary trie for the prefixes with the path corresponding to 1100 (e) darkened. Strings used in an IP routing table are 32 bits long.